Description

A green crocodile Jewellery Case.

The size of this case is perfect for a weekend away. The interior has a lift out tray with fittings to each end to take rings and a central space for necklaces etc. Below the tray is a plain space with a taller space to the back for larger items. The interior is padded with velvet to the bottom with green leather to the sides.

The top has strong hinges with quadrants to support it when open. The handle has brass swing fittings for easy movement and the lock is marked 'Lever London Made' and has its key.

This is a smart little jewellery case. Early to mid 20th Century.
