Description

A leather Cigar Case.

The case is made with three internal tubes to separate and hold individual cigars. The top and bottom sections are each made of two pieces of leather stitched together. They also have a lining made from two pieces of leather. Each half of the case is stamped with a subtle decorative heart logo to ensure the top is put on the correct way round.

The case will take cigars with a diameter of 5/8 inch (1.5cm) and a maximum length of 6 inches (15cm).
Early to mid 20th Century.
