Short Description

A mahogany small bow fronted Corner Cupboard.

Small Corner Cupboards such as this were commonly used on board ships, screwed to the bulkhead in cabins. The panelled door has a knob handle which also operates as the lock with a brass catch to the interior turning as the handle is turned.

The cupboard is well made with a moulded edge to the top and bottom and a single shelf. Pine is used for the secondary wood. Mid to late 19th century.
